

The following academic institutions are partnering with JumpStart to expose you to their MBA programs.

Since 2004, JumpStart has partnered with the Financial Services Industry to educate diverse talent about career options

JumpStart has partnered with top corporate partners specific to careers in marketing and brand management

Since 2004, JumpStart has partnered with the Consulting Industry to educate diverse talent about career options

* Reflects Corporate Partner participants in previous or upcoming career Diversity Forums.

RECEPTION OVERVIEW

- JumpStart is hosting a reception for working professionals considering the pursuit of an MBA over the next 1-3 years.
- Feature speakers will include JumpStart's Co-founder, our Consultant who leads the Path2MBA bootcamp, and several professionals who have attained an MBA from top programs locally and across the country.
- The experience will include best practices on topics such as determining if an MBA is for you, developing a game plan, how to pay for it, telling your story, and achieving the career of choice. Additionally, attendees will get a chance to network with MBAs eager to share their experiences.
- The reception will be on Thursday, April 13th from 6-8pm, at the Alexander Hotel in Downtown Indianapolis.

NETWORK BENEFITS

- Receive updated details on how to register for the reception. Fill out the survey at www.surveymonkey.com/r/F8N3GPH.
- Joining the P2MBA Network and be considered for the virtual bootcamp or the diversity forum, become a member and apply at www.jumpstartadvisorygroup.com.
- Participate in our virtual b-school preparation series including topics such as What is the Value of an MBA, Determining if it is Right For You, Developing a Game Plan, Telling Your Story, How to Fund the MBA, GMAT Guidance, and Life After B-School.
- At the P2MBA Diversity Forum meet MBA program admission and career services representatives from Duke Fuqua, Chicago Booth, MIT Sloan, Stanford, Wharton, Harvard, and Columbia.